To: Rhode Island Licensed Physicians

From: Rhode Island Board of Medical Licensure and Discipline

Effective July 8, 2009, the Rhode Island Board of Medical Licensure and Discipline no longer provides written verification of a licensee status. The Department maintains our licensee look up system for the purposes of verification of a physician's licensure status. This system is updated directly from our Boards licensure database. The web address is <https://healthri.mylicense.com/verification>. If written verification is required, then you are referred to Veridoc at www.Veridoc.org.

Please note this does not represent a new or even recent change in Board policy and practice. We continued to provide some written verification over the last year to facilitate this transition but due to staffing constraints can no longer accommodate such requests.
